Junior Consultant

Tabea is a young environmental professional, holding a Master's Degree in 'Ecotoxicology'.

During her Master's degree, she focussed intensively on the origin, spread and impact of pollutants in the environment. In her Master's thesis, she worked primarily in the field of sample preparation and analysis of sediment samples.

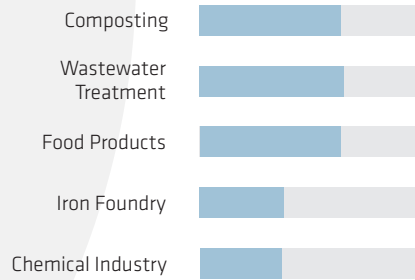

She is currently gaining knowledge and practical experience in various odor projects, with a focus on sampling and reporting.

She is the contact person for all customers who would like to have their samples measured by us.
